2011 drew to a close the five year Strategic Plan for 2007-2011. This has been a very successful period in the history of Philanthropy Australia, with considerable achievements and marked growth in all priority areas, as detailed in the Highlights 2011 report on page 7.

2011 has been a year of many demands on the resources of the philanthropic sector and Philanthropy Australia, unprecedented regulatory change and strategic review for Philanthropy Australia itself.

Regulation

The past year saw the start of the most intense period of regulatory reform in the not-for-profit sector in Australia’s history. While this put a strain on Philanthropy Australia, the Federal Government is to be congratulated for its commitment to reform, after many years of very slow change.

Foremost amongst the changes was the formation of the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission (ACNC) Taskforce, to guide the establishment of the ACNC from July 2012. Philanthropy Australia is supportive of the establishment of the ACNC. However, as with all reforms the details are vital and so Philanthropy Australia has provided advice to help ensure a simpler, fairer and better system of regulation for the not-for-profit sector. In particular, Philanthropy Australia believes that there is a need for the ACNC to remove the current conflicting, contradictory and duplicative reporting requirements in order to lighten the regulatory and financial burden on the sector, and that the privacy and autonomy of entities which do not fundraise or access government funding (including charitable trusts and Private Ancillary Funds) be preserved.

In order to assist the ACNC implementation, Philanthropy Australia has made submissions in response to each of the discussion papers, consultation papers and pieces of draft legislation related to the ACNC and the forthcoming introduction of a statutory definition of charity, which will frame the work of philanthropy.

Natural Disasters

The natural disasters that hit so many areas in Australia in 2011 continued to trigger outpourings of assistance. The floods, cyclones and fires that have affected so many people have been counterpointed by a wonderful flow of donations of time, money and goods. Philanthropy Australia held a Flood Response Meeting for Members in Sydney, Melbourne and Brisbane. Members have commented how useful the meetings were for focusing needs, in addition to the framework of reaction and assistance provided by the Government and by Defence.

The horrors of the images that came out of Christchurch after the earthquakes and Japan after the Sendai Earthquake and resulting tsunamis were shocking. So many people lost family and friends, property and communities. With the dreadful string of natural disasters here in Australia, in Christchurch, in Japan and in other areas, many charities found that donor fatigue was resulting in a slowing down of donations.

Philanthropic organisations and individuals with planned and structured giving in place were therefore faced with a need to juggle the many urgent needs for assistance as well as maintaining granting programs as already scheduled and indeed promised. Policies for grantmaking certainly help to give a framework, but many reworked plans or gave over and above the planned budget of grants in response to these intense and concentrated additional demands.
As is always the case, each of these inquiries was reported to Members via the Philanthropy Review newsletter and the Policy Alert email list, and Members were invited to make comment in response to draft submissions before the final versions were submitted.

Staff and Council have also been represented at several ACNC Round Tables and briefings. Strengthening the relationship with the ACNC as it is formed and responding to further regulatory reforms will be a key focus in 2012.

Strategic Planning

A major focus for the Council and Management in 2011 was the development of a new Strategic Plan. The resulting draft Strategic Plan 2012-2014 was circulated to Members in early 2012, with the intention of finalising and presenting this plan at the 2012 AGM.

Council is extremely grateful for the input from Members and other stakeholders during the consultations held in the first half of the year as part of the development of the Plan. In the second half of the year, Council concentrated much of its meeting time on discussing background, context, the changing landscape and future needs to support and grow philanthropy in Australia and is extremely grateful for the facilitation generously provided by Robert McLean AM through the Strategic Planning process.

Highlight Events

Carrillo Gantner AO, Chairman of Sidney Myer Fund, delivered a rousing speech at a Philanthropy Australia’s Trustees Dinner in May in Melbourne, reflecting on his personal and family philanthropy. The dinner was held at Cranlana through the kind hosting of Lady Southey AC. A Members’ Dinner was also held in Sydney in September, with David Gonski AC as speaker giving an overview of philanthropy in Australia, past, present and future. A Patron, Life Member and Leading Members Luncheon was held in May, as recognition of the important support given by these significant Members of Philanthropy Australia.

Education opportunities and the sharing of knowledge was increased this year through the newly introduced Annual Oration, delivered by Dr Dorothy Scott OAM in Melbourne and Sydney, and a well-attended seminar day was held in Melbourne in September, with Robert Fitzgerald AM giving a keynote address.

General

Reflecting further on the year, Philanthropy Australia has had a broad and significant involvement from many Members, with a further significant increase in attendance at Affinity Groups and Forums. There has also been additional engagement with the wider philanthropic sector, the business community and the NFP sector through presentations to Members, and through discussing various approaches to government submissions.

None of this could have been achieved without the very generous support of Member organisations, especially Leading Members in 2011: MLC Community Foundation, Colonial Foundation, The William Buckland Foundation, The R E Ross Trust, The Vincent Fairfax Family Foundation, The Myer Foundation and ANZ.

We also particularly thank those who chair Affinity Groups and Networks, and also those who form the Expert Technical Committees, drawn from Membership, who assisted with the detail of the many government submissions lodged in 2011. Council and staff members combined to support each other and us, and for this we wish to sincerely thank them; 2011 really was a team effort.

We would also like to thank all volunteers for their generosity in giving many hours of their time, expertise, and enthusiasm. This has been of considerable help, adding significantly to the outreach and effectiveness of Philanthropy Australia.

Together, through significant individual and team contributions, Philanthropy Australia continued to lead, make representation, grow and inspire philanthropy throughout 2011.

Highlights 2011

2011 was a year of change and review at Philanthropy Australia – both sectoral change as the non-profit sector landscape shifted again, and internal change with a new CEO and a new Strategic Plan in development.

The Council conducted a review of the outgoing five year Strategic Plan 2007-2011, and embarked upon extensive consultation with members and key stakeholders as part of the development of the next Strategic Plan 2012-2014. The 2007-2011 Plan has served the organisation well, driving achievements in each of the four priority areas as detailed below.

Council undertook extensive consultation with Members and key stakeholders regarding the future direction of the organisation, including think tanks and a round of member meetings. The level of engagement was heartening, and under the guidance of facilitator Robert McLean AM Council undertook a thorough review of all aspects of the organisation.

Meanwhile, 2011 was the busiest year yet in Philanthropy Australia’s more than 30 year history, with 139 events held for Members, Associates and sectoral colleagues in 16 locations including capital and regional cities around Australia. This reflects the growing trend towards interaction and collaboration between trusts and foundations and amongst donors, increasingly open to learning from each other and working together.

The role and number of financial advisors and grantmaker support groups has expanded in line with burgeoning interest, and the map of the philanthropic sector continues to evolve.

Another focus of major activity was Philanthropy Australia’s role in representation to government, with six major submissions to Federal Government in a year of unprecedented regulatory and legal change for the sector. Philanthropy Australia remains a central body, supporting and connecting Members and stakeholders, summarising and disseminating learnings, and making representation to government.

The following highlights of 2011 report on progress against the Strategic Plan 2007-2011.

1. Representation

Priority: To represent the views of Members on the issues of the day.

Intended outcome: The interests, issues and goals of Members are identified, considered, represented and actioned.

Membership

Philanthropy Australia had 404 Members (237 Full and 167 Associate Members) at the end of 2011. The slight decrease from 417 Members in 2010 was due to one Member Trustee Company consolidating its membership.

We welcomed three new Leading Members this year:

- MLC Community Foundation
- The R E Ross Trust
- The Vincent Fairfax Family Foundation (VFFF)

VFFF is the first family foundation to become a Leading Member in NSW, signaling to other families the potential benefits of taking a leadership role in Australian philanthropy through this support of the peak body.

There was a great deal of communication and consultation in relation to the Treasury’s Public Ancillary Funds (PuAF) Review and Draft Guidelines. Many of Philanthropy Australia’s PuAF Members, and the 30 Community Foundations across Australia made submissions to this review which has a significant impact on PuAFs including Community Foundations and their operations, especially those in the early stages of development and growth. Victorian Community Foundations received a significant boost with an initiative whereby The Office for the Community Sector provided matching contributions, which resulted in eight Community Foundations receiving $400,000 each for their corpus.

Member Survey

Philanthropy Australia undertook a survey of Members and Associates in July 2011, building on the 2010 Survey. 74 responses (33.6 per cent), were received and collectively respondents’ declared annual giving for 2009-10 was $99.7 million. The survey is a valuable way for the organisation to understand the nature of and issues facing our Members, and to ensure that our services are targeted to identified needs. For example, ‘Evaluating the impact of your grantmaking’ was selected by nearly 80 per cent of respondents as one of their three greatest challenges, therefore this issue will be given priority in strategic planning.

Representation to Government

Following the announcement in the 2011-12 Federal Budget of a range of reforms aimed at the not-for-profit sector, Philanthropy Australia has increased its interaction with government and policymakers. In 2011 policy submissions were made in relation to six major Federal Government consultations, including Improving the Integrity of Public Ancillary Funds and a consultation on a statutory definition of charity.

Philanthropy Australia also began developing a relationship with the fledgling Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission (ACNC) which is scheduled to commence operations in July 2012. CEO Dr Deborah Seifert met with Susan Pascoe AM, the chair of the ACNC Implementation Taskforce, and staff and Council Members were part of a number of ACNC consultation Round Tables in Canberra.

Philanthropy Australia continued to build on our strong relationship with federal and state governments, which are becoming increasingly interested in working in partnership with the philanthropic sector.

The Melbourne office hosted a Round Table run by Helen McDevitt, Office for the Not-for-Profit Sector within the Department of Prime Minister and Cabinet in April, and CEO Dr Deborah Seifert met with Treasury representatives regarding the Public Ancillary Funds legislation.

HNW/UHNW Report

Philanthropy Australia was engaged by the Commonwealth Department of Families, Housing, Community Services and Indigenous Affairs (FaHCSIA) in 2010 to explore strategies to encourage greater levels of giving among Australia’s high and ultra high net worth individuals (HNW and UHNW). Research by Effective Philanthropy, Strategies for Increasing High Net Worth and Ultra High Net Worth Giving was released for publication in February 2011 on the Philanthropy Australia website and PhilanthropyWiki, and on the Government’s Social Inclusion website.

The Hon Tanya Plibersek, Minister for Social Inclusion, commended Philanthropy Australia and Effective Philanthropy on the report, which examined the way in which HNW and UHNW giving could be increased. A number of factors influencing HNW giving are identified, including personal preferences, legal and regulatory environments and cultural expectations. A series of ten recommendations form a strategy through which government can promote HNW and UHNW giving. The recommendations fall into two categories: System Recommendations, which cover actions that aim to strengthen the underlying service system supporting the philanthropic sector to better enable and facilitate giving activity; and Program Recommendations, which cover targeted initiatives that aim to increase the number of HNW and UHNW involved in giving and increase the amount of money that they give.

Submissions

Philanthropy Australia contributed responses to a large number of government discussion papers:

- Corporations and Other Legislation Amendment (Trustee Companies and Other Measures) Bill 2011
- Consultation Paper: A Scoping Study for a national not-for-profit regulator
- Exposure Draft of Legislation Improving the Integrity of Public Ancillary Funds
- Draft Guidelines for Public Ancillary Funds
- ‘In Australia’ Special Conditions for Tax Concession Entities

This is more than twice the amount of policy work than has been undertaken in any previous year. In consideration of this fact, Philanthropy Australia staff member Vanessa Meachen has undertaken the coordination of our policy work.

Advice on DGR Status

Investigation into the possibility of Philanthropy Australia obtaining DGR status continued this year, with a view to enabling Members and other organisations to make grants to the organisation. The recent findings in the AidWatch case contributed to the issue, and Philanthropy Australia is taking advice from John Emerson and Alice Macdougall at Freehills and working towards an application for DGR status.
2. Grow and Inspire

Priority: Promoting and facilitating a larger and stronger philanthropy sector.

Intended outcome: Grow the overall level of philanthropy in Australia.

Strategic alliances with like-minded organisations and networks to build collaborative action for the wellbeing of the community.

Philanthropy Australia staff spent considerable time answering questions about philanthropy from potential philanthropists and other non-members seeking information on the sector. In fact more than half the calls to the Melbourne office are from the general public and it is clear that many online users of the Philanthropy Australia website are learning about philanthropy and so these are very important ways in which Philanthropy Australia contributes to growth in the sector.

In addition, much time and energy was spent this year in bringing Members together to share and learn, collaborate and grow philanthropy. A key event was the inaugural Philanthropy Australia Seminar at Wesley College in Melbourne on 22 September which was attended by 120 Members, including some who had travelled from as far as WA, SA, NSW and Queensland. The speaker list included The Hon Rob Knowles AO, Chair of the Mental Health Council of Australia and a former senior Minister in the Victorian Government; Robert Fitzgerald AM Chair of the ACNC Advisory Board; Anna Skarbek of ClimateWorks; and Lynne Wannan, Director of the Victorian Government’s Office for the

Acknowledgements

Philanthropy Australia is immensely grateful to those Members who have been generous with their time and advice on many issues throughout 2011. John Emerson and Alice Macdougall from Freehills once again provided invaluable support and advice, which has largely informed our submissions to government and policy work.

Alice Macdougall’s outstanding work in the non-profit sector was recently acknowledged by her firm for her commitment to pro bono work, which also includes her support to Community Foundations across Australia. In 2011 Alice was awarded the inaugural Freehills Keith Steel Pro Bono Leadership Award.

Philanthropy Australia thanks all Members who have offered their views and expertise, submissions and feedback to assist our representation work.

Deborah also served on the advisory group of the Leading Learning in Education and Philanthropy (LLiEP) program, run by The Ian Potter Foundation and ACER Education, which is investigating the impact of philanthropy in education and aims to build knowledge and improve outcomes for schools and philanthropic supporters. Deborah also participated in the jury of the PwC Transparency Awards, and spoke on a panel at the Fundraising Institute of Australia Conference.

Bruce Argyle participated in The Office for the Community Sector’s not-for-profit reference group and philanthropy reference group, as well as judging for the Business and Higher Education Round Table (BHERT) Award for Outstanding Philanthropic Support of Higher Education. Bruce was also one of a hundred Australian representatives who took part in the CHOGM People’s Forum in Perth in October.

Networking and collaboration also took place beyond our shores, as Deborah Seifert visited New Zealand, meeting with the Council and CEO of Philanthropy New Zealand Robyn Scott, and both Louise Arkles and Louise Burton attended the Philanthropy New Zealand 2011 conference. Deborah also met with David Emerson, Chief Executive of the Association of Charitable Foundations, whilst on leave in the UK.

Priority: To be the leader and principal representative of a vibrant philanthropic community.

Intended outcomes: Recognition as a key peak body included in critical consultations, committees, groups and taskforces on major issues affecting the sector.

In November the ACNC Taskforce held four Round Tables as part of the public consultation process. Philanthropy Australia was represented at three of the four Round Tables: CEO Dr Deborah Seifert attended the Education Round Table, Treasurer David Ward was at the Governance Round Table, and Director of Research and Policy Vanessa Meachen attended the Information Portal Round Table.

Community Sector. A number of Members and staff also gave of their time and knowledge presenting or facilitating during the day.

The Community Foundations Network has continued to thrive under the guidance of Andrew Lawson, welcoming several new Members this year. A highlight was the annual Community Foundation Forum held on August 15, 16 and 17, 2011.

The host foundation this year was the Northern Rivers Community Foundation who welcomed some 65 attendees to the Forum, which was held at Kingscliff on the NSW North Coast. Northern Rivers organised a very successful program which included guest speakers along with community foundation practitioners who presented papers on a very comprehensive range of topics of value to the Community Foundation movement. The Forum title was ‘Turning Dreams into Reality’.

An immense amount of information was gleaned, summarised and disseminated to Members and to the public by Philanthropy Australia staff in a variety of formats throughout the year, from online publications to face-to-face meetings.

The organisation continues to be seen as the go-to place for information on philanthropy, as evidenced by the growing number of speaking requests and publication downloads.

Websites
The website continues to be the prime online face of the organisation, with an average of more than 9,000 visitors a month to the main website, over 4,000 per month accessing the PhilanthropyWiki, and more than 20,000 downloads of the Handbooks and Guides since their online publication.

PRESSing Matters’ readership went up by more than 20 per cent in 2011, with the end of the year seeing more than 360 recipients opening and reading any given edition of the media monitoring newsletter out of a total of 1032 Member and Associate subscribers. This open-rate of 35 per cent is well above the statistical average of the Australian community sector, which has an average open-rate of 23 per cent.

Social Networking
The PhilanthropyOz Blog (started in 2007, currently 680 subscribers) and Twitter (started in 2010, currently 1200 followers) became increasingly active through 2011 as the public enthusiastically subscribed to these online updates.

Philanthropy Australia also created a YouTube channel to share videos of relevance to the philanthropy sector. While we are not currently creating original videos to upload at this stage, Philanthropy Australia’s Favourites list contains a number of videos which might be of interest to Members, usefully divided into categories including Legislation and Law, Philanthropy Profiles, Philanthropy News and Opinion and Philanthropy at Work.

With public discussion and debate of issues in philanthropy, such as impact, effectiveness and transparency, reaching wide audiences in the national press, these social networking sites provide a healthy and vibrant place for informal comments and conversation. By offering a variety of ways in which to engage with the public and promote discussion, Philanthropy Australia has significantly contributed to public engagement in giving, and ultimately the growth of philanthropy.

Australian Philanthropy Journal
Australian Philanthropy continues to be a key publication for Members, many of whom contribute thought-provoking articles. The journal aims to share knowledge gleaned from Australian research and practice in philanthropy, as well as overseas articles, news and standout blogs on philanthropy. The three issues for 2011 were – Issue 78: Investing Offshore: giving beyond our borders; Issue 79: Communicating with each other and the world; and Issue 80: Indigenous Philanthropy.

The analytical nature of Members’ articles and the academic content of the journal point to the increasingly professional and strategic nature of philanthropy.
3. Effectiveness

Priority: Improve the effectiveness of philanthropy and the community’s understanding of the role of philanthropy.

Intended outcome: Better measures and understanding of community wellbeing, social capital and the contribution of philanthropy.

Workshops and Seminars

The workshop program continued apace in 2011, with nine Grantseeker workshops held around Australia through the year, as well as customised workshops in Alice Springs (NT), Mandurah (WA) and Geelong (VIC). There were also tailored workshops conducted for Parramatta Council (NSW), Hume City Council (VIC) and RMIT (VIC).

In addition, six specialist Grant Writing workshops were commissioned by VCOSS, and delivered in regional Victoria at Leongatha, Horsham, Lorne, Benalla, Mornington and Mildura.

There were also three ‘Getting to Know Philanthropy’ sessions commissioned by VCOSS which included presentations from several philanthropic trusts as well as from Philanthropy Australia. These were attended by over 220 people in total, generating income for Philanthropy Australia and raising the level of understanding and quality of submissions for the philanthropic sector.

A number of new Australian publications in philanthropy also appeared this year, with ANZ Trustees’ Journey magazine exploring donors’ stories and The Difference showcasing charities with a view to assisting donors. These are evidence of increasing desire to maximise the effectiveness of grants and donations, and to share lessons learned with peers and the sector at large.

Philanthropy Australia was invited to comment on philanthropy, charity and donations, and the establishment of the Australian Charities & Not-for-Profits Commission by a number of media outlets, including The Australian, the Australian Financial Review, ABC Radio National and several state-based and local newspapers and radio stations.

Deborah Seifert and Bruce Argyle were consulted in the lead-up to a new television series ‘Great Stories’, which was launched in November showcasing great philanthropic projects. Screened on Victoria’s Channel 31, and scheduled for interstate screening at a later date, the program series included segments on various impressive philanthropy-funded projects including FareShare, Common Ground homelessness project, Fitted for Work and projects for disaster recovery in Ipswich (Qld), and Marysville (Vic).

RTRfm, a community radio station in Western Australia, held its inaugural Philanthropy Week in June with a multitude of interviews with Members of Philanthropy Australia, including Lotterywest’s Jan Stewart, Kevin MacDonald of Giving West, Teresa Zolnierkiewicz of ANZ Trustees, and Annie Fogarty of the Fogarty Foundation.

Vanessa Meachen was invited to be a guest blogger for Alliance magazine – a European publication focusing on philanthropy and social investment worldwide. Vanessa is one of a select group of 25 guest bloggers contributing on a monthly basis.

PRESSing Matters, the organisation’s internal media monitoring service, continued to chart the rise in public interest in philanthropy, with an average of 60 articles each week.

Philanthropy Australia Inc – Annual Report 2011

Philanthropy Australia Inc – Annual Report 2011

Philanthropy Australia Inc – Annual Report 2011
Philanthropy Australia piloted a series of professional development workshops for those employed and volunteering in the sector.

Of particular note is the new ‘Philanthropy 101’ seminar series which was launched in May, with the purpose of informing those new to the sector about philanthropy, as well as providing a refresher course for long-term staff and trustees. These seminars focus on a history of Australian Philanthropy, facts, structures and options, the nature of the sector, theories and future trends. Philanthropy 101 seminars were held in Melbourne, Sydney and Perth in 2011.

Vanessa Meachen gave a public lecture on philanthropy in Perth, in collaboration with Giving West and the Centre for Social Impact, and Deborah Seifert gave a number of lectures and presentations in various contexts including Member lunches, and special interest groups.

Priority: Improve the efficiency and effectiveness of Philanthropy Australia for its Members.

Intended outcome: Positive feedback from Members on Philanthropy Australia’s performance.

Events

2011 was a year of ‘firsts’, with, in addition to the inaugural Melbourne Seminar, the inaugural Philanthropy Australia Oration. The 2011 Oration was delivered in September by Dr Dorothy Scott, in Sydney at The NSW State Library and Melbourne at The University of Melbourne. These events were very enthusiastically received, and were generously supported by The Gandel Charitable Trust and the hosting venues.

A Trustees Dinner in Melbourne, hosted by Lady Southey AC at Cranlana, was held in May, with Carillo Gantner AO speaking, and a dinner for Sydney Members was held at the UNSW in September, with David Gonski AC speaking.

A luncheon for Patrons, Life Members and Leading Members was held in May, and smaller functions held for significant stakeholders throughout the year. A luncheon following the AGM in April was extremely well attended, with Helen McDevitt from the Department of Prime Minister and Cabinet’s Office for the not-for-profit sector as guest speaker.

Networks

Targeted specifically to program and grant managers, the Philanthropy Worker’s Network hosted by Philanthropy Australia ran a Social Media and Technology Forum which was well attended.

In response to Member demand, a new Rural and Regional Network was created, which has a specific focus on philanthropy in rural and regional Australia. A group of Members, including Foundation for Rural & Regional Renewal (FRRR), has joined to establish and develop this important initiative, with a first meeting held in July. The highlight for the year was a one-day Forum held in Canberra in November, hosted jointly by Tim Fairfax and the National Portrait Gallery. The Forum allowed members of the Network to meet with key government representatives and share learnings.

The South Australia network has been successfully operating this year out of The Wyatt Benevolent Institution Inc in Adelaide and sincere thanks go to Elisabeth Gazard for her work coordinating this actively engaged group.

There have also been Member meetings in Brisbane, Perth and regional centres including Newcastle and Bendigo.
Information and Communications Technology

The effectiveness of Philanthropy Australia’s performance was boosted by pro bono IT support from The Macquarie Group, which undertook an audit of Philanthropy Australia’s hardware.

The urgency for Philanthropy Australia to move to a more effective communication platform which will facilitate Member access and interaction nationally is apparent. The current websites and IT systems are coming to the end of their effectiveness and need a complete upgrade to bring IT capabilities and accessibility in line with Member and community expectations.

Goldman Sachs & Partners Australia Pty Ltd donated several computers to the Sydney and Melbourne offices, which is greatly appreciated.

Philanthropy Australia installed a large monitor screen, microphone and speakers in the boardroom of the Melbourne Office, and thus now has webinar and Skype facilities for ease of staff and Member contact.

4. Governance

Priority: Encourage strong and transparent governance within the philanthropic sector.

Intended outcomes: Trustees and Members who maintain sound governance policies and practices, and report regularly on the outcomes of their philanthropic contributions.

Effective education and professional development for Members and the sector more generally

Four governance workshops were held in 2011 and were well attended, particularly in the light of education in the new regulatory environment.

Priority: Philanthropy Australia is recognised as a well governed and financially-sound peak body.

Intended Outcomes: Transparent and sustainable membership organisation with strong support throughout the philanthropic sector.

The Council of Philanthropy Australia met six times and the Audit, Risk and Finance Committee met three times during 2011. As well as general governance, the Council undertook Strategic Planning throughout the second half of the year.

In May Council regretfully accepted a resignation from Jackie Huggins AM who had been on the Council since 2010.

Environmental Sustainability

In 2011 Philanthropy Australia continued measures to minimise the organisation’s impact upon the environment through reduced resource consumption by:

- Continuing with paper conservation policies (providing electronic copies where possible, using recycled paper, re-using paper)
- Using the services of a not-for-profit courier who is committed to being environmentally friendly
- Participating in carbon offset schemes where possible when using air travel
- Purchasing energy-efficient/low-energy computer equipment and using an e-waste recycling program to dispose of old hardware
- Continuing a practice of turning off lights and equipment when not in use

Philanthropy Australia aims to continue to provide resources that meet the needs of our Members to support and grow philanthropy for a more civil society.

The accompanying notes form part of these financial statements.
The financial statements cover Philanthropy Australia Inc. as an individual entity. Philanthropy Australia Inc. is an Association incorporated and domiciled in Australia.

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Preparation
The financial statements are general purpose financial statements that have been prepared in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards (including Australian Accounting Interpretations) of the Australian Accounting Standards Board and the Associations Incorporation Act (Vic) 1981.

Australian Accounting Standards set out accounting policies that the AASB has concluded would result in financial statements containing relevant and reliable information about transactions, events and conditions. Material accounting policies adopted in the preparation of the financial statements are presented below and have been consistently applied unless otherwise stated.

The financial statements have been prepared on an accruals basis and are based on historical costs, modified, where applicable, by the measurement at fair value of selected non-current assets, financial assets and financial liabilities.

The following is a summary of the material accounting policies adopted by the Association in the preparation of the financial report:

(a) Revenue
Revenue from the sale of goods is recognised upon delivery of goods to customers.

Interest revenue is recognised on a proportional basis taking into account the interest rates applicable to the financial assets.

Revenue from Full, Associate and Resource Centre Members is recognised when invoiced. When the payment is received, the portion paid in advance is accounted for as unearned income and amortised over the remainder of the subscription year.

Revenue from Leading Members fees is treated as grants received and brought to account as income when invoiced.

(b) Income Tax
The Association is an income tax exempt charitable entity under subsection 50B of the ITAA 1997.

(c) Inventories
Inventories consist of finished goods being publications and are measured at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Costs are assigned on a specific identification basis and include direct costs and appropriate overheads, if any.

(d) Plant and Equipment
Each class of plant and equipment is carried at cost or fair values less, where applicable, accumulated depreciation and impairment losses.

Plant and equipment are measured on the cost basis less depreciation and impairment losses.

The carrying amount of plant and equipment is reviewed annually by directors to ensure it is not in excess of the recoverable amount from these assets. The recoverable amount is assessed on the basis of the expected net cash flows that will be received from the assets employment and subsequent disposal. The expected net cash flows have been discounted to their present values in determining recoverable amounts.

Plant and equipment that have been contributed at no cost, or for nominal cost are valued at the fair value of the asset at the date it is acquired.
1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES continued

Depreciation
The depreciation rates amount of all furniture and equipment are depreciated on a straight line basis over useful lives of the assets to the Association commencing from the time the asset is held ready for use.

The depreciation rates used for each class of depreciable asset are:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Depreciation Rate</th>
<th></th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Furniture and Fixtures</td>
<td>30 per cent</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Office Equipment</td>
<td>30 per cent</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

The assets’ residual values and useful lives are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at each balance sheet date.

Gains and losses on disposals are determined by comparing proceeds with the carrying amount. These gains or losses are included in the income statement. When revalued assets are sold, amounts included in the revaluation reserve relating to that asset are transferred to retained earnings.

(e) Financial Instruments

Initial Recognition and Measurement
Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised when the entity becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. For financial assets, this is equivalent to the date that the Association commits itself to either purchase or sell the asset (i.e. trade date accounting is adopted).

Financial instruments are initially measured at fair value plus transaction costs, except where the instrument is classified ‘at fair value through profit or loss’ in which case transaction costs are expensed to profit or loss immediately.

Classification and Subsequent Measurement
Financial instruments are subsequently measured at either fair value, amortised cost using the effective interest rate method or cost. Fair value represents the amount for which an asset could be exchanged or a liability settled, between knowledgeable, willing parties. Where available, quoted prices in an active market are used to determine fair value. In other circumstances, valuation techniques are adopted.

Amortised cost is calculated as: (i) the amount at which the financial asset or financial liability is measured at initial recognition; (ii) less principal repayments; (iii) plus or minus the cumulative amortisation of the difference, if any, between the amount initially recognised and the maturity amount calculated using the effective interest method; and (iv) less any reduction for impairment.

The effective interest method is used to allocate interest income or interest expense over the relevant period and is equivalent to the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash payments or receipts (including fees, transaction costs and other premiums or discounts) through the expected life (or when this cannot be reliably predicted, the contractual term) of the financial instrument to the net carrying amount of the financial asset or financial liability. Revisions to expected future net cash flows will necessitate an adjustment to the carrying value with a consequential recognition of an income or expense in profit or loss.

The Association does not designate any interests in subsidiaries, associates or joint venture entities as being subject to the requirements of Accounting Standards specifically applicable to financial instruments.

(i) Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss
Financial assets are classified at ‘fair value through profit or loss’ when they are either held for trading for the purpose of short term profit taking, derivatives not held for hedging purposes, or when they are designated as such to avoid an accounting mismatch or to enable performance evaluation where a group of financial assets is managed by key management personnel on a fair value basis in accordance with a documented risk management or investment strategy. Such assets are subsequently measured at fair value with changes in carrying value being included in profit or loss.
(ii) Loans and receivables
Loans and receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market and are stated at amortised cost.

(iii) Held-to-maturity investments
Held-to-maturity investments are non-derivative financial assets that have fixed maturities and fixed or determinable payments, and it is the Association’s intention to hold these investments to maturity. They are subsequently measured at amortised cost.

(iv) Available-for-sale financial assets
Available-for-sale financial assets are non-derivative financial assets that are either not capable of being classified into other categories of financial assets due to their nature or they are designated as such by management. They comprise investments in the equity of other entities where there is neither a fixed maturity nor fixed or determinable payments.

(v) Financial liabilities
Non-derivative financial liabilities (excluding financial guarantees) are subsequently measured at amortised cost.

Fair Value
Fair value is determined based on current bid prices for all quoted investments. Valuation techniques are applied to determine the fair value for all unlisted securities, including recent arm’s length transactions, reference to similar instruments and option pricing models.

Impairment
At each reporting date, the Association assesses whether there is objective evidence that a financial instrument has been impaired. In the case of available-for-sale financial instruments, a prolonged decline in the value of the instrument is considered to determine whether an impairment has arisen. Impairment losses are recognised in the income statement.

Financial Guarantees
Where material, financial guarantees issued, which require the issuer to make specified payments to reimburse the holder for a loss it incurs because a specified debtor fails to make payment when due, are recognised as financial liabilities at fair value on initial recognition. The guarantee is subsequently measured at the higher of the best estimate of the obligation and the amount initially recognised less, when appropriate, cumulative amortisation in accordance with AASB 118: Revenue. Where the entity gives guarantees in exchange for a fee, revenue is recognised under AASB 118.

The fair value of financial guarantee contracts has been assessed using the probability-weighted discounted cash flow approach. The probability has been based on:

- the likelihood of the guaranteed party defaulting in a year’s period;
- the proportion of the exposure that is not expected to be recovered due to the guaranteed party defaulting; and
- the maximum loss exposed if the guaranteed party were to default.

Derecognition
Financial assets are derecognised where the contractual rights to receipt of cash flows expire or the asset is transferred to another party whereby the entity no longer has any significant continuing involvement in the risks and benefits associated with the asset. Financial liabilities are derecognised where the related obligations are either discharged, cancelled or expire. The difference between the carrying value of the financial liability extinguished or transferred to another party and the fair value of consideration paid, including the transfer of non-cash assets or liabilities assumed, is recognised in profit or loss.

(f) Leases
Lease payments under operating leases, where substantially all the risks and benefits remain with the lessor, are charged as expenses in the periods in which they are incurred.
1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

(g) Cash and Cash Equivalents
Cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, deposits held at-call with banks, other short term highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less, and bank overdrafts.

(h) Employee Entitlements
Provision is made for the Association’s liability for the employee entitlements arising from services rendered by employees to reporting date. Employee entitlements expected to be settled within one year together with entitlements arising from wages and salaries, annual leave and long service leave, which will be settled after one year, have been measured at their nominal rate. Other employee entitlements payable later than one year have been measured at the present value of estimated future cash outflows to be made for those entitlements.

Contributions are made by the Association to an employee superannuation fund and are charged as expenses when incurred.

(i) Goods and Services Tax
Revenues, expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of goods and services tax (‘GST’), except where the amount of GST incurred is not recoverable from the Australian Tax Office (‘ATO’). In these circumstances the GST is recognised as part of the cost of the acquisition of the asset or as part of an item of expense. Receivables and payables are stated with the amount of GST included.

The net amount of the GST recoverable from, or payable to, the ATO is included as a current asset or liability in the statement of financial position. Cash flows are included in the statement of cash flows on a gross basis.

(j) Impairment of Assets
At each reporting date, the Association reviews the carrying values of its tangible and intangible assets to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have been impaired. If such an indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset, being the higher of the asset’s fair values less costs to sell and value-in-use, is compared to the asset’s carrying value. Any excess of the asset’s carrying value over its recoverable amount is expensed to the statement of comprehensive income.

Where the future economic benefits of the asset are not primarily dependent upon on the asset’s ability to generate net cash inflows and when the Association would, if deprived of the asset, replace its remaining future economic benefits, value-in-use is depreciated replacement cost of an asset.

Where it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an assets class, the Association estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the class of assets belongs.

(k) Critical Accounting Estimates and Judgements
The Council Members evaluate estimates and judgements incorporated into the financial report based on historical knowledge and best available current information. Estimates assume a reasonable expectation of future events and are based on current trend and economic data, obtained both externally and within the Association.

Key Estimates – Impairment
The Association assesses impairment at each reporting date by evaluating conditions specific to the Association that may lead to impairment of assets. Where an impairment trigger exists, the recoverable amount of the assets is determined. Value-in-use calculations performed in assessing recoverable amounts incorporate a number of key estimates. No impairment has been recognised in the financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2011.

Key Judgements – Doubtful Debts Provision
No doubtful debt provision has been made at 31 December 2011.
(l) Adoption of New and Revised Accounting Standards
During the current year, the Association has adopted all of the new and revised Australian Accounting Standards and Interpretations applicable to its operations which became mandatory.

The adoption of these Standards has impacted the recognition, measurement and disclosure of certain transactions. The following is an explanation of the impact the adoption of these Standards and Interpretations has had on the financial statements of Philanthropy Australia Inc.

(m) New Accounting Standards for Application in Future Periods
The AASB has issued new and amended Accounting Standards and Interpretations that have mandatory application dates for future reporting periods and which the Association has decided not to early adopt. A discussion of those future requirements and their impact on the Association is as follows:

• AASB 9: Financial Instruments (December 2010) (applicable for annual reporting periods commencing on or after 1 January 2013).

This Standard is applicable retrospectively and includes revised requirements for the classification and measurement of financial instruments, as well as recognition and derecognition requirements for financial instruments. The Association has not yet determined any potential impact on the financial statements.

The key changes made to accounting requirements include:
– simplifying the classifications of financial assets into those carried at amortised cost and those carried at fair value;
– simplifying the requirements for embedded derivatives;
– removing the tainting rules associated with held-to-maturity assets;
– removing the requirements to separate and fair value embedded derivatives for financial assets carried at amortised cost;
– allowing an irrevocable election on initial recognition to present gains and losses on investments in equity instruments that are not held for trading in other comprehensive income. Dividends in respect of these investments that are a return on investment can be recognised in profit or loss and there is no impairment or recycling on disposal of the instrument;
– requiring financial assets to be reclassified where there is a change in an entity’s business model as they are initially classified based on: (a) the objective of the entity’s business model for managing the financial assets; and (b) the characteristics of the contractual cash flows; and – requiring an entity that chooses to measure a financial liability at fair value to present the portion of the change in its fair value due to changes in the entity’s own credit risk in other comprehensive income, except when that would create an accounting mismatch. If such a mismatch would be created or enlarged, the entity is required to present all changes in fair value (including the effects of changes in the credit risk of the liability) in profit or loss.

• AASB 124: Related Party Disclosures (applicable for annual reporting periods commencing on or after 1 January 2011).

This Standard removes the requirement for government-related entities to disclose details of all transactions with the government and other government-related entities and clarifies the definition of a ‘related party’ to remove inconsistencies and simplify the structure of the Standard. No changes are expected to materially affect the Association.

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES continued

- AASB 1053 establishes a revised differential financial reporting framework consisting of two tiers of financial reporting requirements for those entities preparing general purpose financial statements:
  - Tier 1: Australian Accounting Standards; and
  - Tier 2: Australian Accounting Standards – Reduced Disclosure Requirements.

Tier 2 of the framework comprises the recognition, measurement and presentation requirements of Tier 1, but contains significantly fewer disclosure requirements.

The following entities are required to apply Tier 1 reporting requirements (i.e. full IFRS):
- for-profit private sector entities that have public accountability; and
- the Australian Government and state, territory and local governments.

Subject to AASB 1049, general government sectors of the Australian Government and state and territory governments would also apply Tier 1 reporting requirements.

The following entities can elect to apply Tier 2 of the framework when preparing general purpose financial statements:
- for-profit private sector entities that do not have public accountability; and
- not-for-profit private sector entities; and
- public sector entities, whether for-profit or not-for-profit, other than the Australian Government and state, territory and local governments.

- AASB 2010–2 makes amendments to Australian Accounting Standards and Interpretations to give effect to the reduced disclosure requirements for Tier 2 entities. It achieves this by specifying the disclosure paragraphs that a Tier 2 entity need not comply with as well as adding specific ‘RDR’ disclosures.

- AASB 2010–4: Further Amendments to Australian Accounting Standards arising from the Annual Improvements Project (AASB 1, AASB 7, AASB 101 and AASB 134 and Interpretation 13) (applicable for annual reporting periods commencing on or after 1 January 2011).

This Standard details numerous non-urgent but necessary changes to Accounting Standards arising from the IASB’s annual improvements project. Key changes include:
- clarifying the application of AASB 108 prior to an entity’s first Australian-Accounting-Standards financial statements;
- adding an explicit statement to AASB 7 that qualitative disclosures should be made in the context of the quantitative disclosures to better enable users to evaluate an entity’s exposure to risks arising from financial instruments;
- amending AASB 101 to the effect that disaggregation of changes in each component of equity arising from transactions recognised in other comprehensive income is required to be presented, but is permitted to be presented in the statement of changes in equity or in the notes;
- adding a number of examples to the list of events or transactions that require disclosure under AASB 134; and
- making sundry editorial amendments to various Standards and Interpretations.
This Standard is not expected to impact the Association.

- AASB 2010–5: Amendments to Australian Accounting Standards (AASB 1, 3, 4, 5, 101, 107, 112, 118, 121, 132, 133, 134, 137, 139, 140, 1023 and 1038 and Interpretations 112, 115, 127, 132 and 1042) (applicable for annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2011).

This Standard makes numerous editorial amendments to a range of Australian Accounting Standards and Interpretations, including amendments to reflect changes made to the text of IFRSs by the IASB. However, these editorial amendments have no major impact on the requirements of the respective amended pronouncements.

- AASB 2010–6: Amendments to Australian Accounting Standards – Disclosures on Transfers of Financial Assets (AASB 1 and AASB 7) (applicable for annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 July 2011).

This Standard adds and amends disclosure requirements about transfers of financial assets, especially those in respect of the nature of the financial assets involved and the risks associated with them. Accordingly, this Standard makes amendments to AASB 1: First-time Adoption of Australian Accounting Standards, and AASB 7: Financial Instruments: Disclosures, establishing additional disclosure requirements in relation to transfers of financial assets.

This Standard is not expected to impact the Association.

This Standard makes amendments to a range of Australian Accounting Standards and Interpretations as a consequence of the issuance of AASB 9: Financial Instruments in December 2010. Accordingly, these amendments will only apply when the entity adopts AASB 9.

As noted above, the Association has not yet determined any potential impact on the financial statements from adopting AASB 9.

The Association does not anticipate early adoption of any of the above reporting requirements and does not expect them to have any material effect on the Association’s financial statements.

Current trade receivables are non-interest bearing loans and are generally receivable within 30 days.

A provision for impairment is recognised against subscriptions where there is objective evidence that an individual trade receivable is impaired.

Movement in provision for impairment:

- Balance at beginning of the year
- Impairment losses recognised on receivables
- Amounts written off during the year as uncollectible
- Balance at end of year

Credit Risk

The Association has no significant concentration of credit risk with respect to any single counterparty or group of counterparties other than those receivables specifically provided for and mentioned within Note 5.

The main source of credit risk to the Association is considered to relate to the class of assets described as subscriptions receivable.

Credit Risk

The maximum exposure to credit risk, excluding the value of any collateral or other security, at financial position to recognised financial assets, is the carrying amount, net of any provisions for impairment of those assets, as disclosed in the balance sheet and notes to the financial statements.

There are no financial assets that have been pledged as security for any financial liability.

Credit risk is managed and reviewed regularly by Audit, Finance and Risk Committee. It arises from exposures to customers and deposits with financial institutions.

The Committee monitors credit risk by actively assessing the rating quality and liquidity of counter parties: Only banks and financial institutions with an ‘A’ rating are utilised.

At year end the Association does not have any material credit risk exposure to any single receivable or group of receivable or group of receivables under financial instruments entered into by the Association.

Foreign Currency risk

The Association is not exposed to fluctuations in foreign currencies.

Price risk

The Association is not exposed to any material commodity price risk.

Net Fair Values

The aggregate net fair values and carrying amounts of financial assets and financial liabilities are disclosed in the balance sheet and in the notes to the financial statements.

Fair values are those amounts at which an asset could be exchanged, or a liability settled, between knowledgeable, willing parties in an arm’s length transaction. Areas of judgement and the assumptions used have been detailed below.

Where possible, valuation information used to calculate fair value is extracted from the market, with more reliable information available from markets that are actively traded.

The fair values disclosed in the balance sheet and in the notes to the financial statements have been determined based on the following:

Cash and cash equivalents, trade and other receivables and trade and other payables are short term instruments in nature whose carrying value is equivalent to fair value. Trade and other payables excludes amounts provided for relating to annual leave which is not considered a financial instrument.
Sensitivity Analyses
The Association has not performed a sensitivity analysis relating to its exposure to interest rate risk at balance date. As at 31 December 2011, the result of changes in the interest rate have no material effect on the current year results and equity.

No sensitivity analysis has been performed on foreign currency risk as the Association is not exposed to foreign currency fluctuations.

No sensitivity analysis has been performed on commodity price risk as the Association is not exposed to foreign currency fluctuations.

Financial Risk Management Policies

The Audit Finance and Risk Committee, consisting of Council Members, meets on a regular basis to analyse financial risk exposure and to evaluate treasury management strategies in the context of the most recent economic conditions and forecasts.

The Committee’s overall risk management strategy seeks to assist the Association in meeting its financial targets, whilst minimising potential adverse effects on financial performance.

The Committee operates under policies approved by the Council. Risk management policies are approved and reviewed by the Committee on a regular basis. These include the use of credit risk policies and future cash flow requirements.

Specific Financial Risk Exposures and Management

The main risks the Association is exposed to through its financial instruments are interest rate risk, liquidity risk and credit risk.

(a) Interest Rate Risk

Interest rate risk refers to the risk that the fair value of financial instruments or future cash flows will fluctuate due to changes in market interest rates.

The Association’s interest-bearing financial assets expose it to risks associated with the effect of fluctuations in the prevailing levels of market interest rates on its financial position and cash flows.

(b) Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Association will not be able to meet its financial obligations as they fall due. The Association’s approach to managing liquidity is to ensure, as far as possible, that it will always have sufficient liquidity to meet its liabilities when due and by maintaining sufficient cash and cash equivalents to meet normal operating requirements.

Committee’s Responsibility for the Financial Report
The Committee is responsible for the preparation of the financial report that gives a true and fair view in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards and the Associations Incorporation Act (Vic) 1981 and for such internal control as the Committee and management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of the financial report that is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor’s Responsibility
Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the financial report based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards. Those standards require that we comply with relevant ethical requirements relating to audit engagements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial report is free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial report. The procedures selected depend on the auditor’s judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial report, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity’s preparation of the financial report that gives a true and fair view in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity’s internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial report.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.
